I want to use the same path for all subfolders. Lets say I have a domain.com/test.php and I want it to go to something like test.com/test.php - so it should be rewrited like: RewriteEngine on RewriteCond %{REQUEST_URI}!^/home/ RewriteCond %{REQUEST_URI}!^/code/ RewriteCond %{REQUEST_URI}!^/skin/ RewriteCond %{REQUEST_URI}!^/styles/ RewriteCond %{REQUEST_URI}!^/images/ RewriteCond %{REQUEST_URI}!^/scripts/ RewriteRule (.*) $1 [L] But this is not working! I also tried putting more RewriteCond's to rewrite the URIs in the folder home, code, skin, styles, images, scripts. And if I put one RewriteCond in another folder there will be a domain.com/test.php rewrite problem. I would be very glad if someone could help me with this. I can't even add this to my.htaccess: RewriteCond %{REQUEST_URI}!^/home RewriteCond %{REQUEST_URI}!^/code RewriteCond %{REQUEST_URI}!^/skin RewriteCond %{REQUEST_URI}!^/styles RewriteCond %{REQUEST_URI}!^/images RewriteCond %{REQUEST_URI}!^/scripts RewriteCond %{REQUEST

A: You can use this (if you have fast internet connection) or Mick Jagger The first time I saw you, you were 5 years old, and your parents danced you around the room. You were squealing and pulling at your mother's hair, trying to get her to let you down. She didn't want to let you go. She didn't want to hear you cry. She told you to stop kicking so she could take a picture of you. She pulled out the camera with her free hand. She ran into the bedroom to find a dress that you would wear to the dance. You had a name for yourself, but you couldn't remember it. I was there with her that night. She didn't care what you did. The world didn't scare her. She wasn't going to let you down. I was her only fear.In vitro activity of moxifloxacin, levofloxacin, and gemifloxacin against ciprofloxacin-resistant gram-positive organisms. Ciprofloxacin-resistant Gram-positive organisms were isolated during a recent, prospective survey of resistance patterns in a U.S. hospital and a recently developed clinical site. Cultures of Staphylococcus aureus, Enterococcus faecium, and Enterococcus faecalis were isolated from various clinical specimens of hospitalized patients over a 15-month period. A total of 1,738 gram-positive isolates were collected, of which 185 isolates (10.9%) were from patients with underlying bacteremia. In vitro susceptibility was determined using a broth microdilution method with three ciprofloxacin-containing concentrations of penicillinase containing beta-lactam antibiotic disks and interpreted using National Committee for Clinical Laboratory Standards criteria for susceptible, intermediate and resistant. The minimal inhibitory concentration (MIC) of levofloxacin and moxifloxacin were determined for all 185 isolates of ciprofloxacin-
